REFERENCES

BURNS, T., N. N. SOJA, 1995. ‘The case of NP-type nouns: support for semantic theories of acquisition’. In E.V.Clark (ed.) Proceedings of the Twenty-Sixth Annual Child Language Research Forum (pp. 22–31), Center for the Study of Language and Information.

DEWITT, J. E., 1995. ‘How a word-learning principle might interact with metalinguistic knowledge and input’. In E. V. Clark (ed.) Proceedings of the 26th Annual Child Language Research Forum (pp. 159–166), Center for the Study of Language and Information.

GENTNER, D., M. IMAI, 1995. ‘A Further examination of the Shape bias in early word learning’. In E. V. Clark (ed.) The Proceedings of the 26th Annual Child Language Research Forum (pp. 167–176), Center for the Study of Language and Information.

JAKOBSON, R., 1941. Child Language, Aphasia, and Phonological Universals

KAYNE, R., 1989. 'Notes on English agreement'. Ms. CUNY.

MEISEL, J., N. MÜLLER, 1992. ‘Finiteness and verb placement in early child grammars: evidence from simultaneous acquisition of French and German in bilinguals’. In J. Meisel (ed.) The Acquisition of ROEPER, T., J. WEISSENBORN, 1990. 'How to make parameters work'. In L. Frazier, J. de Villiers (eds.) Language Processing and Language Acquisition (pp. 147–162), Dodrecht: Kluwer.

SHADY, M., L. GERKEN. 1995. ‘Grammatical and caregiver cues in early sentence comprehension’. In E. V. Clark (ed.) Proceedings of the 26th Annual Child Language Research Forum (pp. 94–103), Center for the Study of Language and Information.

STOWELL, T., 1994. ‘The Syntax of tense’, Ms. MIT.

STROMSWOLD, K., 1990. Learnability and the Acquisition of Auxiliaries. Doctoral dissertation, Department of Brain and Cognitive Sciences, MIT.

THORNTON, R., 1999. ‘No lack of focus before two’. Poster presented at Gala 1999, Potsdam University.

WEXLER, K., R. MANZINI, 1987. ‘Parameters and learnability in binding theory’. In T. Roeper, E. Williams (eds.) Parameter setting (pp. 41–76), Dordrecht: Reidel.

WILLIAMS, E., 1994. ‘Remarks on lexical knowledge’. In L. Gleitman, B. Landau (eds.) The Acquisition of the Lexicon (pp. 7–34), Cambridge, Mass.: MIT Press.

XU, F., S. CAREY, K. RAPHAELIS, A. GINZBURSKY, 1995. ‘12-month-old infants have the conceptual resource to support the acquisition of count nouns’. In E.V. Clark (ed.) Proceedings of the Twenty-Sixth Annual Child Language Research Forum, Center for the Study of Language and Information.

